

How to Become a Forgetful Squirrel:

1. Come and play with us! Our monthly open play sessions are open to anyone who wants to be creative, whether it's through improv, sketch comedy, making videos... you name it!
2. Members of the Forgetful Squirrels will be in regular attendance and will invite promising players from the open play group to come and play with us for a trial period.
3. After eight rehearsals or so, the Squirrels will sit down with you and have a discussion about the pros and cons and how well we all play together.
4. The Squirrels will vote and, if we agree it's a good fit, invite you to play for your first show.
  - a. You must be in attendance for four of the last six rehearsals before your show and for one of the last two. We understand that life happens, but you need to be prepared to perform. ***This applies to all members of the troupe for every show.
5. You will be part of the reflection/debrief that follows every show. If we agree that it's a good fit, you will be invited to play in the next show.
6. After your second successful show, we will vote again, and you will be welcomed into the group (provided you also bring yummy snacks and/or beverages).
  - a. If we feel you have promise but are not ready, we will return to step three - more rehearsals, another trial show, another discussion and vote. If we feel it's simply not a good fit, we will discuss this with you - and you will still be welcome to continue in our open group!
